

Board supports Guice theme park

BY TRACI BONNEY

After a lengthy discussion, the board of supervisors agreed Monday to support attorney Stephen Guice's bid for legislation allowing the construction of a multi-phase theme park near the Bay of St. Louis.

Guice had asked at a recent meeting for a resolution supporting a local and private bill for the park, but the board had taken the request under advisement for further discussion with board attorney Gerald Gex.

At Monday's meeting, Gex said he tried to plot out the property being considered for the park by using the legal description Guice had given him. However, Gex reported, he had difficulties doing so.

He recommended that the board pass the resolution, if the supervisors so desired, but make it contingent upon finalization of the legal descriptions.

Gex also debated with Guice the wording of a provision concerning maintenance of public roads within the park. Gex said that as he read it, the provision would prevent the county and state from maintaining roads currently under their care.

Guice reminded Gex that the Diamondhead-DeLisle Improvement District, which would be charged with the construction and maintenance of the park and its grounds, has not actually been created yet, and must be created before he can legally come before the board with such matters as

Sheriff's Department tickets tag offenders

BY TRACI BONNEY

Results are excellent so far from roadblocks set to ferret out those with illegal vehicle tags and driver's licenses, according to Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Peterson said that in three weeks, the Sheriff's Department has conducted nine roadblocks and ticketed more than 140 tag and license offenders. Tickets have been issued for 49 expired tags, two switched tags, eight improper tags and four vehicles with no tags; 20 driving on suspended licenses, 16 improper drivers licenses, 19 expired drivers licenses and 27 driving without a license.

"We've set up roadblocks in Diamondhead, Lakeshore, Bay Side Park, Shoreline Park, on Kiln-DeLisle Road and in the north part of the county," he stated. "We will continue setting up these roadblocks in various areas until we feel we've rid the county of improper tags and driver's licenses."

Bay St. Louis Police Department Detective David Parker said the city officers have conducted several roadblocks in conjunction with the Highway Patrol, but only one on their own so far. Tickets resulting from that one roadblock include 5 driving on a suspended license, 14 expired tags, three without tags and six improper drivers licenses.

Another roadblock Tuesday, a two-hour one at the Bay Bridge, yielded four custodies and 10

Poplarville man gives land to help benefit medical needs

BY TRACI BONNEY

J.H. "Buster" Strahan's property investments are beginning to pay off for other people.

J.H. "Buster" Strahan

Strahan, a Poplarville resident, started buying properties — camp sites, subdivision lots, even an island in Louisiana — many years ago. After selling some to recoup his investment costs and make a small profit, he hit upon a way to use his properties to benefit people with high medical bills and other unexpected expenses.

About 1½ years ago, he began donating lots for raffles, with every dollar of the ticket money going to benefit the child, adult or family in whose name the raffle is held.

For $5 a ticket, a person has a chance to win a piece of property. And he or she can be assured that all five dollars will go to the person for whom the benefit is held.

"I don't get any of the money back," Strahan said. "I pay for my own travel and other expenses. As for the tickets, I've had people or businesses donate them every time I've done one of these fund raisers. When people find out what I'm doing, they want to pitch in and help, so they donate the printing on the tickets, or gift certificates and other items."

Strahan's efforts to help others have extended into several counties and touched many families. To date, he has helped more than seven people cope with medical expenses caused by difficulties with vital organs, cancer, leukemia and other problems.

One boy his generosity has helped was born without eyes, and a young girl needed a wheelchair. Strahan's lot donation and fund raising work bought one for her.

Strahan understands firsthand the great financial needs brought on by medical problems. He has had two open heart surgeries, has diabetes, asbestosis and glaucoma, which his doctor only recently

Some 280 golfers were "Italian for a day" at the annual Pass Christian Isles Golf Club's Italian Open Saturday. The event officially began when Grand marshal Bill Delligatti, left, teed off by taking a swing at a large, frozen meatball, propelling it approximately 27 feet down the fairway. Gift shop sustains fire damage

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A recent fire in the upper living quarters of Jeanne Garcia's Gift Shop on the corner of Highway 90 and McLaurin Street in Waveland resulted in heavy damage, reported Fire Chief David Garcia.

According to the fire chief, at approximately 3 a.m. on Sunday, March 29, Jeanne Garcia and her granddaughter were awakened from their sleep to fire and smoke and immediately left the premises.

As they were unable to reach the phone prior to leaving they drove to John Mason's Exxon Station and called for help.

From the time the call was received to the first engine leaving the station was four minutes.

Two pumpers and 14 firemen arrived on the scene, and 40 minutes later the fire was out.

"The upstairs living area sustained heavy damage," Fire Chief Garcia stated. "The men were able to stop the fire before it reached too much of the downstairs area and shop."

"Most of the damage downstairs is from heat and water."

Garcia added that 200-250 pounds of class-2 fireworks were a point of concern for the firemen during the blaze.

"We would have really had some problems," he commented, "should the fire have reached downstairs."

"As it was, we had to destroy the fireworks following the fire. Some of the fireworks had become wet while fighting the fire, and there was the possibility that the gunpowder would cake upon drying, causing the explosion to be unpredictable."

Humane Society denied space in Waveland building

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

An opinion from the state attorney general's office resulted in bad news for the Hancock County Humane Society Tuesday.

Waveland city attorney Lucien Gex interpreted the opinion to mean the city could not legally allow an organization permanent use of any part of a city owned building, so as to exclude other organizations from utilization of that area.

He added, the city's current lease agreement with the St. Vincent de Paul Society, which operates a Thrift Store in the City Hall Annex Building, may also be affected.

The Society currently leases space from the city for a nominal fee.

Humane society president Thyla Rogers requested the city allow the society's return to former location within the city civic center upon completion of renovations.

The City of Waveland had allowed the society and other groups free and permanent access to the building in the past.

These groups left the center last year when the building was closed because of code violations cited by the county fire marshal Jay Marsh, Waveland fire chief David Garcia and Waveland building inspector Emile Henley.

In September the board earmarked into the 1992 fiscal year budget $40,000 for renovations on the building.

Mayor Stella Frilot stated during Tuesday's meeting, the reason the city has not yet begun renovations is since passage of the American Disabilities Act (ADA) the center, now mandated by 1995 to include handicapped accessible adaptations, will require major changes. She said this year's budget amount will not be enough for the work needed.

DOCKET

During discussion of the docket, Alderman Stan Weidman questioned the purchase of a level by the city, saying, "Curtis (Colson) and I requested this in January."

He continued to question who would use the level and whether those using it would be sent to school to learn its operation.

Frilot said those using it would be shown how to operate the piece of equipment by those employees already trained, including herself if need be.

Weidman questioned the cost for drug testing of city employees, asking why there were two $80 charges per man.

Coast Electric/WLOX-TV employees vie in Food Pantry fund-raiser Wed.

As practice draws to a close, employees of Coast Electric Power Association and WLOX-TV prepare to face off in Wednesday's "Battle For Baskets," with proceeds to benefit the Hancock County Food Pantry.

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. April 15 at Hancock High School's gymnasium.

Admission is $2 and everyone is asked to bring a canned food item. Children under 10 will be admitted free.

"This is just one way we can help the Food Pantry with its collection of foods for Easter baskets," said Keith Hoda of Coast Electric.

"We are ready to play, and plan to give the game our best shots," said Hoda.

The WLOX team has earned a reputation for playing a tough game, although they were recently defeated in a hard-fought contest with the faculty of St. Stanislaus High School.

A special half time free-throw contest will be offered for the students in attendance.

SENIOR CITIZEN HAPPENINGS

EASTER PARTY

Ladies, man your hats! Wednesday, April 15 at noon we will have our Easter hat contest and party. Be sure to come early for lunch and stay for our "Easter Parade of Hats" with prizes.

We will be closed Good Friday.

TOWN MEETING
Representative Gene Taylor will be at the courthouse April 15 at 6 p.m. This would be a good time to talk with him about important issues like health care, the deficit, and how much more money it will cost us to pay off the Savings & Loan drain on our economy. I, for one, am sick of paying for theft of those in high places who let this happen. Many got rich off of our backs, and why aren't they doing more about it?

VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION

RSVP will honor our volunteers along with all the rest on April 23 at the Waveland Resort Inn. We will have a special luncheon for our volunteers on May 1 at the center.

Our program was built on the premise that we would use volunteers to expand services, and we sure have done that! Carl Baldenhofer was our first volunteer, and he had signed up with AARP in Gulfport to help us before we even got started. He has been helping for 20 years!

Theresa James was another of our early young adult volunteers. She and her sister-in-law helped us until we started RSVP and she moved over to that program and eventually became director.

Susan Manieri Earl was a high school volunteer and later an employee. She is now working with the elderly as manager of the Residential Care Facility.

We have had many wonderful senior, middle, and junior-aged volunteers in our program, and all have added their special touch. We appreciate all of our volunteers and those who are working in all areas of our community. Thanks!

'Dixie' Division plans reunion

More than 1,000 former members of the 31st Infantry (Dixie) Division will be in Jackson May 15 and 16 for the eighth annual reunion of the famed division.

Retired Col. Guy R. Green Jr., president of the 31st Infantry "Dixie" Division Society, said although the majority of those attending will be from Mississippi and Alabama, many other states will be represented.

Composed of troops from Mis-issippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida National Guard units, the division was organized during World War I and served on active duty again in the South Pacific in World War II and during the Korean conflict.

Highlighting the two-day event will be a banquet on Saturday, May 16, with Congressman G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery as the featured speaker. Montgomery, a retired major general in the Mississippi Army National Guard also is a former member of the division.

Col. Green said among those who plan to attend are retired General E. H. Walker, former Chief of the National Guard Bureau; Lt. Gen. Cohen Robertson, Maj. Gen. Gray Harrison and James Farmer, all former adjutants general of Mississippi; and Maj. Gen. Denver Brackeen, who was special advisor for military affairs to the governor.

that.

He also reminded the supervisors the documentation he has submitted to them is not the legislation itself, but only the information that will be sent to the legislative drafting board in Jackson.

Gex asked Guice to add a provision stating that the board of supervisors will have the right of final review of the local and private bill before it is enacted. Guice agreed to do so.

He also assured the board the Secretary of State will not deliver the charter for the Diamondhead-DeLisle Improvement District until all the property—10,000 to 12,000 acres west of Diamondhead in Hancock County and 5,000 acres east of Diamondhead in Harrison County—is obtained. Much of it is currently under option.

The board finally voted 5-0 to pass the requested resolution.

The proposed theme park is expected to include a Talladega-type race track and automotive theme amusement park, a Disney World-style Park of the Americas, a botanical garden and arboretum, a multi-media recording studio, a 150-room hotel and a plastics manufacturing plant.

MAINTENANCE MONEY

Hancock County schools superintendent Myrna Bourgeois once again asked the supervisors to reinstate the 0.26 mills formerly earmarked for maintenance of the county vocational-technical center when that center was under the supervision of Pearl River Community College.

When PRCC turned maintenance of the facility over to the county schools, the supervisors returned the millage to the county's general funds budget, saying they weren't certain they could legally give it to the school district.

Chancery clerk Mike Necaise told Bourgeois they have since learned they can give it to the district, but the board now must wait until FY '93 to do so.

The supervisors pledged to give the district the maintenance funds next fiscal year. While Bourgeois was pleased that the district will have the millage next year, she said that won't help current problems with an air conditioner in the vo tech center's administration area that needs to be repaired.

An price she quoted for the board gave an estimate of $15,000 to $20,000 for the repair work. Mike Ladner and several of the supervisors told her they thought the estimate was too high, and asked her to get a second one.

HILO ESTATES

John Scaffie presented the supervisors a resolution passed by the county Planning Commission recommending acceptance of the subdivision's final plan.

Scaffie said the five-lot subdivision, located in Diamondhead and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cuccia, complies with local and state regulations. On that basis, he recommended waiving the requirement for a preliminary plan and public hearing.

The board accepted the plan 5-0.

HERON BAY ROAD

Heron Bay Road's application for inclusion on the county's State Aid roads roster may be reconsidered, according to a letter from State Aid official Joe Clark.

Necaise read the letter, which said Clark had asked engineer Brooks Miller to conduct a traffic count on the road. The letter also said Clark plans to visit the area and view the road.

After viewing the area and studying the traffic count, Clark wrote, he would consider whether or not to add the road to the State Aid list.

County officials and area residents have made their support clear for Heron Bay Road's inclusion because it gives access to LaFrance fish camp and other local businesses.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

Sue Zulke with the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission asked for and received board approval for Hancock County to spend up to $15,000 as its share of the disposal costs for an insecticide called Paris green.

The chemical, donated to the commission in the early 1960s by NASA, is no longer used and is being stored in rotting bags in a commission storage barn in Gulfport. The barn is just a few feet from a drainage system that runs into Bernard Bayou, Big Lake and the Biloxi Back Bay.

Zulke said if the commission disposes of the chemical before May 8, it can be put into a landfill, which will cost about $35,000 to $45,000 to accomplish. After May 8, because of new federal regulations, the chemical will have to be incinerated, which could cost $175,000 or more.

The board unanimously supported the expenditure and added it to the April docket. Necaise told the board the money would come partly from the professional services budget and partly from the board of supervisors grants funds.

UNIT SYSTEM

Gex updated the supervisors on the status of the unit/beat system controversy.

He said the bill allowing voters to petition for an election to return to the beat system was signed into law by the governor, and that the bill calls for the first possible election date to be this year's general election in November. If the beat system is not voted back in this fall, it can't be voted on again until 1995.

Gex added even if it does pass this fall, it can't go into effect until October of 1993.

He emphasized "the voters must petition for the election, or it will not be held."

BULL LAWSUIT

Gex also told the board the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a lower court decision dismissing a six-year-old lawsuit Emmitt Bull had filed against Sheriff Ronald Peterson and several other county and state officials.

Bull, who had been jailed in Memphis, had claimed a conspiracy operated among those named in the lawsuit to have him brought up on state drug charges in two separate cases while he was in Mississippi to testify in an unrelated federal case.

After approving the third quarter appropriations, the checks for election, planning and parks commissioners, and the March docket, the board recessed until April 16 at 9 a.m.

Favre family reunion scheduled for April 26

BY TRACI BONNEY

Descendents of Simon Favre, get ready. It's reunion time.

The Simon Favre Reunion is set for April 26 at the Hancock County Civic Center. The party is open to descendants, their spouses and relatives.

Attractions at the reunion include the music of DeLisle one-man band Davis Hawthorne, clowns from the Shriners, pinatas and balloons for the kids, and several demonstrations of Choctaw crafts, sports and dancing. The reunion will be filmed by Bob Ferguson of TV station WHTV, Channel 5 of the Choctaw Network (located at the Philadelphia, Miss., reservation) and Mississippi Night-time News.

Of course, there will be plenty of good Gulf Coast cooking, including fried mullet, red beans and rice, cole slaw, cake, drinks and more.

Tickets for the event are $3 for adults. Children under 12 will be admitted free. Tickets are limited.

Simon Favre, born June 1, 1760, was the son of Jean Claude and Marquise Wiltz Favre and the grandson of French soldier Jean Favre, who served in the Louisiana Troops in the early 1700s, and Marie Ann Arlu Favre, who had come to North America with her family in 1719.

Simon's father and uncle, Jean Simon, were both interpreters for the French, English and Spanish governments to the Choctaw Nation. Records indicate Jean Claude's son Simon very likely mixed freely with the Choctaws during his youth, according to a family history researched and written by Beauregard Favre Jr.

Simon went on to serve the territorial governments of Louisiana and Mississippi. He had two wives during the course of his life, a Choctaw woman named Pistikioknay (also called Ann B. Lewellyn) and Celeste Rochon.

Children from his first marriage to Pistikioknay included Alexis, Mary, Charles, John Baptiste and Louis. The offspring of the second marriage included Jean, Augustin, Onezian, Louise Eucharist and Maquette.

Over the next few generations, Simon's descendants married among the black, white and Choctaw communities of their times. Today, descendants include Favres, Farves, Fairconnettes and others locally, and Favres and others at the Philadelphia and other Choctaw reservations.

"I praise the Lord I'm here each day, even though it's good to know I'm ready when the time does come. I know where I'm going," he said.

Strahan explained that he sought an interview with The Sea Coast Echo not for the glory, but for an opportunity "to pass the torch. I want to get something like this started in all 82 counties in Mississippi, but I'm running out of lots to donate.

"Anyone can get involved in this. You can donate lots, cattle,

He also extended his gratitude to those who have already become involved. "I want to give thanks to everybody involved in supporting this kind of fund raising."

Bay awaits price to acquire depot; will need help

Bay St. Louis officials anxiously await a price tag on the old Railroad Depot and property from the CSX Railroad.

For nearly 100 years the depot and grounds were the showplace of Bay St. Louis and center of the city's business activity.

Mayor Eddie Favre, at an old-fashioned town meeting Tuesday night, told of the city's plans to purchase the depot and grounds. Negotiations are in progress with CSX Railroad.

It was emphasized that the city could not undertake the job alone; it will take all types of commitments from the residents.

Municipal officials will need financial help, as well as physical, professional, skilled and semi-skilled labor to make the depot restoration possible.

The residents of Bay St. Louis have had the reputation of meeting challenges in the past.

The Railroad Depot restoration is a big challenge, and this newspaper feels the citizens of Bay St. Louis can meet it.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The last full auto service station will be history for the Bay-Waveland area with the closing of Mason's Exxon at the end of this month.

I can remember the time I purchased my first auto, a 'slightly used' 1936 Plymouth, when I was a high school junior and started dealing with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Batey at the Highways 90 and 603 location.

This means a more than 40-years of full automotive service will come to an end at this intersection.

John Mason advises me that he will keep the station open for minor repairs and wrecker service until the end of the month, but should run out of gas sometime today.

Times change and the way we do things too, but, really, I think the old ways in some instances were better.

Best of luck to Mason, who will still be around and involved in the auto support service at another location.

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139 will sponsor a Bonco Party on Wed., April 15, 7 p.m.

It is my understanding that the Legion Auxiliary members are planning on offering a good time for all who attend.

Admission is a donation of $5 with proceeds going to auxiliary community projects.

There will be fun, prizes and refreshments. The Legion home is located on Green Meadow Road off Blue Meadow.

For further information or tickets, call 467-2084, 467-5937 or 467-5692.

Congratulations are in order for Master Alan Uram, who will represent the United States in Europe in the Optimist Class in sailing.

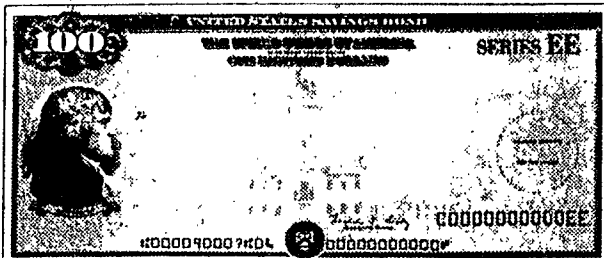

Uram won this honor by placing in the top 10 finishers in nationwide competition held last weekend in Bay St. Louis at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Uram had a log of challengers as there was a field of 64 competitors in the U.S. Optimist Dinghy Association's races held in Bay St. Louis.

By the way, the weather really cooperated for the races, as officials wanted some strong winds and tides to prepare America's youth for the international competitors.

Uram is the son of Mark and Nancy Uram of Bay St. Louis.

The Uram family will be heading to Suendborg, Denmark in late July for the international sailing competition.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI SENATE

By Senator Vic Franckiewicz

Seniors' exemption protected

Elderly homeowners of the Coast were up in arms last week about the proposed change in the special homestead exemption for senior citizens. As passed by the House of Representatives, the bill would have done away with the exemption for people with incomes over $18,000.

The Senate Finance Committee, which I serve on, refused to approve the bill. If it had passed, the bill would have hit the Gulf Coast in a big way because of our large elderly population.

Another item with a lot of interest in Hancock County was the bill to reduce the minimum speckled trout size from 14" to 12". The bill died in the Senate Wildlife and Fisheries Committee when the chairman decided not to bring it before the full Senate.

Even though he killed the bill, the chairman is concerned about the problem of local fishermen not being able to catch and keep any fish. He directed the Commission on Wildlife Conservation to address the problem through regulations, and they are scheduled to discuss it at the April 27 meeting.

The Charitable Bingo Law passed the Senate Finance Committee and is now before the full Senate. In many parts of the state, commercial bingo parlors pretending to be charitable organizations are hurting legitimate non-profit groups.

When we legalized bingo a few years back, the legislature never intended to open the door to large, profit-making bingo operations.

Nonetheless, they have slipped through every loophole in the law to the point where they are sucking up most of the revenues which previously were available to local veterans and civic groups.

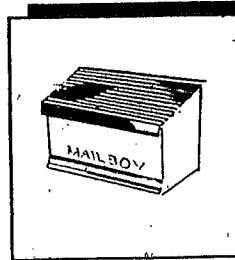

For example, one large operation in the state reports about $1 million annual gross revenues, but gives only $12,000 to charity.

The Charitable Bingo Law would establish a system of regulation and licensing to insure the bingo revenues go to legitimate non-profit groups instead of criminal organizations.

The full Senate took action on the House version of Workers Comp reform. We amended it to conform to the Workers Comp bill we passed last month, with one significant difference: the newer version has better coverage for legitimate workplace injuries.

The earlier Senate bill only covered violent, accidental injuries. If an injury developed over time (hearing and vision losses, for example), the worker would not have been covered. The newer version fixes this problem.

We are now in the final month of the session. As we wind down, most of the legislature's attention will be on balancing the budget and funding education. I am interested in your input. You can reach me in Jackson at 359-3454, or by mail at the Mississippi Senate, P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

One more blow to education?

Dear Editor,

Approximately 20 years ago, the small congregation of the Lutheran Church of The Pines in Waveland determined that a good way to provide outreach to the community was to establish a day care center.

They believed that this would not only provide a much needed service to families who found it necessary for a mother to work outside the home, but would also provide young children with basic learning skills, and for those who did not attend church, with a basic Christian education. The Bible, which even some non-believers admit contains much wisdom, states in Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." (KJV)

There are a number of examples of which I am personally aware which attest to the sustaining quality of training that has been afforded hundreds of children who have passed through The Lutheran Church of The Pines Christian Day Care Center.

In the case of our own grandchildren, one, now nearly 21 years old, spent her early years at the center. In her fifth year at Waveland Elementary, (in the days when the school went through the sixth grade) she was placed in the gifted class of 11 children; nine of these children had spent their preschool years (before public kindergarten) in The Pines Day Care Center.

At one time or another, at least four of our nine Waveland grandchildren have spent some time at the center. They have all been on the alpha honor roll—one currently in the sixth grade at Bay Middle School, has had all A's for the year and has, in fact, the highest grades in her class.

In August of 1985, Linda Penrose, who is currently president of the Bay-Waveland School Board, felt compelled to write a letter to the Pines Day Care attesting to the high standard of education it provided her own children. She has given me permission to restate part of her letter which is as follows:

"I can remember about four years ago that the pre-school program was the best in the area—all children from the center who entered first grade were far ahead of the other children in their classes."

"It is my hope that you will again institute a kindergarten-type program for the youngsters who will begin first grade in 1986. This is one of the reasons that I have kept my children in your care for almost eight years."

"I am very pleased with the progress of my children in that the center emphasizes discipline, as I do in my home, and feel that my children have learned a great deal about Christian values..."

In talking with Mrs. Penrose, she assured me that she continues to feel the same way about the high quality of the Pines Day Care.

Over the years, the Pines Day Care Center has continued to obtain the very best pre-school Christian-oriented teaching material available from professional sources; the Becka Books are currently being used and have been for a number of years. The center also strives to get teachers who have training in early child development.

Many times in the past, the small Pines congregation was obliged to finance the day care center when, as usual, and is still true, it was struggling for its own existence. As the reader is probably aware, Lutherans are pretty scarce in the southern states.

I have always championed the day care and often argue to keep it going.

On the surface this appears to have been a mistake; however, when I think of all the children, who, at an early age are the most receptive to learning, and how there is concrete evidence of the effectiveness of their having attended the Pines Day Care, then I have a hard time saying it's too much trouble; it deprives us of a meeting place during week days, etc., because real trouble is what we are experiencing in our schools and society today and this, to a large extent, because, as the words of a "South Pacific" song relates: "They've got to be carefully taught"—the wisdom of Proverbs phrased in a slightly different way; wisdom that is too often ignored.

I submit that the Pines Day Care is a small facility and cannot serve every child in the community; however, the hundreds who have been served have been served well and, God willing, there will be hundreds to follow who will also profit through the learning experiences of structured curriculum, Christian teaching and fellowship with other little ones.

No excuses for House banking controversy

Dear Editor,

I, for one, am appalled and sickened by the disclosure and admittance that our congressman, Rep. Gene Taylor, has been writing bad checks. Where and to whom does not matter.

No matter how busy we are, we are responsible for the checks we write, and at all times we must be aware of our finances.

Gene Taylor's behavior is an affront to every needy but honest person in his district.

I will not vote for Gene Taylor.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial From Mississippi Economic Council

Cutting the waste

As the Mississippi Legislature continues to struggle with the Herculean task of lifting the state out of its budget doldrums, the Commission on Efficiency in Government is offering sound suggestions for change.

In its second and latest report, the Commission takes a look at the vo-tech and adult education programs under the State Department of Education. These programs, which take up more than half of the state's vocational education budget of $195 million, are conducted through Mississippi's public high schools and community and junior colleges.

The Commission's findings show room for improvement in the administration of the programs, and call for change by placing control of the post-secondary vo-tech and adult education purse strings in the hands of the board for Community and Junior Colleges. Such a move, according to the Commission, is necessary to improve the vo-tech programs and provide businesses and industries with better-trained graduates.

Composed of business leaders, and not politicians, the Commission offers to the government and the people of Mississippi open and honest suggestions for change. Whether those suggestions will be acted upon, or even considered, remains to be seen.

No matter what, there is a need for changes in Mississippi's government. The Commission is there to remind us all of that.

"Efficient government" isn't necessarily an oxymoron.

citations, but Parker said the report he was given did not specify the types of violations.

Waveland Police Chief James Varnell said the department has set up no roadblocks thus far. However, in the three weeks since the announcement was made, Waveland officers have issued citations for six driving on a suspended license and 10 expired tags.

The three agencies had agreed to work together several weeks ago to crack down on people whose vehicles are illegally tagged.

Peterson said, "If you're ticketed for an illegal tag, you will be fined, and you'll have to pay an additional $250 penalty when you go to the tax assessor's office to replace your tag."

"When an officer catches someone with an illegal tag, he writes that person a ticket, then we send a copy of the ticket to the tax assessor's office. So, when the person goes to the tax office, he'll get hit with another penalty."

"When people buy car tags in Louisiana but live in Mississippi, they're cheating the county and state out of tax revenues. Also, we've had numerous complaints from people who get their tags, then look across the street and see their neighbor's car with a Louisiana tag on it."

Officers are looking for out-of-state tags belonging to people claiming local residence, expired tags and those that have been switched.

Sometimes — as in cases involving expired or switched license plates — an illegal tag is easily discovered. If a car is found to have such an illegal tag, the driver is immediately ticketed.

However, cases involving Louisiana tags on cars registered to Mississippi residents are not always that simply resolved.

Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay said many of the tag checks are not on-the-spot matters. When a vehicle is stopped at a roadblock, an illegal tag may not be immediately obvious.

"When we stop a vehicle, if we have reason to suspect that the tag is illegal, we will take down the driver's name and license number, as well as the vehicle tag number, then run a check on them later. We check several things — whether or not the person claims homestead exemption in Mississippi and whether or not he or she has kids in school are two of our best ways of finding out."

"If we find that the tag is illegal, a ticket will be issued to the driver."

Seay said most of the roadblocks that will be conducted will be done at entrance/exit areas for neighborhoods, and will be conducted during weekdays.

"Weekenders from Louisiana, who have homes here but don't claim homestead exemption in Mississippi, don't have to worry. They don't need to back their cars into the driveways, because we don't conduct house-to-house checks."

Waveland

Barnes explained the first $80 charge was for initial drug testing done prior to employment.

The second fee, he continued, was the annual membership cost per employee to belong to the Municipal Gas Association of Mississippi (MGAM). This fee covers any drug testing cost which may be incurred should a Waveland employee be selected as a result of mandated random testing practices.

Also questioned by Weidman was the need for the purchase of a lift station pump to be listed as an emergency.

A lengthy discussion ensued on how each station contains two pumps which rotate work; how throughout the city of Waveland pump types vary in compatibility; and the feasibility of standardizing all of Waveland's pumps at one time.

The docket was approved, with Weidman dissenting.

ADA PLAN

Weidman proposed the city designate a representative to submit a plan for all city buildings needing to comply with the ADA mandate.

Referring to a recent meeting on ADA requirements, he stated, a plan must be submitted by July 26 of this year. Weidman and city building official Keith Mitchell attended the meeting.

Mitchell stated, "It was my understanding, what this is pertaining to, these deadlines, are in effect to the recreational departments."

"I have talked with the mayor and submitted a report to her; we discussed it and the playgrounds have been taken care of. They needed some signs and some parking. It is my understanding that all of that has been done."

Approval of the minutes passed unanimously.

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

The annual madness of Mardi Gras in New Orleans and select places around the globe give deep insight into the many inhibition latent in every human being. Some inhibitions, of course, are healthy and good; others, unhealthy and annoying.

Maskers feel free to cut loose and fantasize, daring to be and act as they would never dream of acting during their workaday lives. It is a special fun and mystery time which belies their normal pattern of behavior.

Ash Wednesday descends with a distinct shock, jolting everyone back to the realities of life. Maybe.

On Ash Wednesday, those who do mask for Mardi Gras simply remove their festive masks to bear the usual mask of some kind, even those of us who claim to be open and up-front about everything. We are not even aware of some masks.

There is not a single one of us who has no identify problem at all. Who, for instance, can honestly say that she/he has no fears or insecurities about skeletons in the family closet? Even Jesus had Tamar who played the hooker in the line of his official genealogy (Gn. 38: 12-30; Mt. 1: 3).

Jesus, of course, wore no mask at any time. All he did was bear the weight of our masks, of our insecurities, of our anxieties, of our fears, of our sins, of our shame.

"He was spurned and avoided by people... one of those from whom people hide their faces... Yet it was our infirmities that he bore... But he was pierced for our offenses, crushed for our sins. (Is. 52: 3-5).

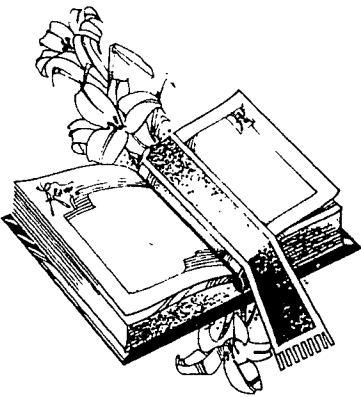

Unlike Jesus, we may have a special family mask to hide irregularities among our kin. That mask may concern a genetic heritage of which we are ashamed, or it may involve unacceptable conditions or lifestyles such as abuse of alcohol or other drugs, homosexual-ity or criminal behavior.

Dropping our masks

Some of our masks are thin and hardly conceal anything at all. Such is the mask of sexism, which, for the most part, is rather open and even blatant in most individuals, especially males. Many do not even bother to wear masks.

St. Stanislaus High School has planned its first arts festival April 12, beginning at 2 p.m. On display will be the works of art students, which will hang in the school resource center.

The band will perform and excerpts from an upcoming play will be presented. The school's literary magazine will be on sale.

The event is in conjunction with a family picnic sponsored for SSC students.

On display:

Hillyer House in Pass Christian offers the following exhibits during April: "Trout", original watercolors by New Orleans artist Jim Bonner; sculptured pottery lamps and free form fish by Larry Roe; "Sealife" copper and brass jewelry by Pat Juneau.

On April 11, Sherry Lutz will give a free form pottery demonstration, and on April 25, Ellen Reeves will give a demonstration of painting with mixed media, featuring fish and boats. Demonstrations on both dates will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information, call 452-4810.

On stage:

Tickets are now on sale for the Kinetic Neo Skene Theatre production of Kern's and Hammerstein's classic Show Boat, which will run April 24-26 at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre. The cast includes Coast favorites Tammy Turnage, Carolyn Matthews, Barbara Burnett, Keith Ballard and Anthony Kalberg.

Advance tickets for the 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday performances are $10 for adults and $8 for senior citizens and students. Advance tickets for the 2 p.m. Sunday matinee are $8 and $6. Advance tickets must be purchased by April 23.

Tickets are available at The Peoples Bank of Biloxi, Gulfport, Ocean Springs and Orange Grove, and Everybody's Cleaners of Biloxi. Group rates are available.

For information, call 435-0450.

Biloxi Little Theatre stages its production of Rumors April 12 at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $7 for adults, $6 for students and senior citizens. For reservations, call 388-881 or 432-8543.

On the move:

Fern Singer, owner of Brush Strokes, has moved her shop from One Magnolia Place to the Harmony House mini-mall in the old Landmark restaurant on Main Street.

Singer hand paints clothes, sheets and other items, and has introduced a Bay St. Louis souvenir t-shirt to her products.

Best Little Whorehouse

Roles are still available for Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's production of The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas to be presented May 22, 23, 29 and 30. Cast members are shown rehearsing the play, which will be directed by Ed Scanlan, assisted by Sally Rodrigue. Men ages 18-25 are needed for Texas Aggie roles, and women ages 20-50 are needed for the choir. For more information, call Scanlan at 467-7107 or Rodrigue at 452-4884. (Photo by T. H. "Doc" Toups)

Chagall, Miro, Dali works featured at MMA

The Mississippi Museum of Art/Gulf Coast will feature works from the MMA permanent collection by such renowned artists as Marc Chagall, Joan Miro, Salvador Dali and Andy Warhol now through June 7.

"Modern and Contemporary Prints, 1930-1985" explores the period of 55 years full of changes in the social and political realms, changes which resulted in several major movements in the world of art.

"This exhibit is a microcosm of the artistic movements from 1930 to 1985," said Alexander Lee Nyerges, executive director of the MMA. "Artists such as Bonnard, Miro and Warhol were affected by the changing politics, philosophy and social mores of their times. These themes are reflected in their styles and subject matter."

Artists from the Modernist movement, one of the first movements represented in this exhibit, wished to bring complete change to the way in which art had been seen in the past century. They were the first group to use lithography as their main form of expression in book illustrations, theater posters and decoration, bringing fine art closer to the general public.

Surrealism, which was first used to describe the work of Russian artist Marc Chagall, was actually organized in 1924 with a manifesto written by the French poet Andre Breton. This original statement was signed by Joan Miro and later by Salvador Dali. The Surrealist opposed traditional academic art as well as the avant-garde movements of the day. They accepted Sigmund Freud's theories that dreams held a certain significance beyond rational and ordinary description, and this was reflected in their work. Surrealist works in this exhibit include "La Ruisselante Solitaire" by Joan Miro and "Paris and Helen of Troy" by Salvador Dali.

After World War II, the influences of Surrealism, war and politics became evident in works by Abstract Expressionist artists such as Robert Motherwell. This movement continued well beyond the 1960s and is still considered to be a significant movement in today's art world.

Along with the turmoil of the 1960s and '70s came Pop Art. Based on mass urban culture and a reaction to the individualism of Abstract Expressionism, Pop Art turned objects of everyday life into art. A prime example of this is Andy Warhol's print of a Campbell's soup can.

The show concludes with examples of Contemporary Art from Gordon House, Patrick Caulfield, Elisabeth Frink and two well known Mississippi artists, William Dunlap and Andrew Bucci.

The MAA/Gulf Coast is located at 136 George E. Ohr St. in the Biloxi Cultural Center. Admission is free and the museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1-5 p.m. For more information call 374-5547.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON -- A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientists may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant, colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the project of National Dietary Research, aptly named Food Source One, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids, has been a windfall for some overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear."

In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 3 weeks on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Child abuse prevention

Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward Favre presents a city proclamation declaring April as Child Abuse Prevention Awareness Month to Hancock County Exchange Club president Julie Cannon (left) and Gwen Meyers, president of the board of directors for the South Mississippi Exchange Clubs' Family-Child Center. Meyers is holding a blue ribbon which will decorate the front of City Hall as a reminder of the month's significance. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

Pass Christian Garden Club

At the April meeting of the Pass Christian Garden Club, the following officers were elected for the 1992-93 year:

President, Mrs. McInnis Ward; first vice-president, Mrs. John G. Drevar; second vice-president, Mrs. Clyde Moreland; recording secretary, Mrs. N. Lee Stanbro; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hugh Griffon; treasurer, Mrs. Etta Williams; historian, Mrs. Perry Davis; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Robert Campbell.

Officers will be installed at the May 7 luncheon meeting at the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

Mrs. Vera Sentilles, one of the former presidents of the club, presented Mrs. McInnis Ward with a vase bouquet of iris to show the club's appreciation for her leadership as president for the past year.

Thanks were extended to the Sea Coast Echo for publicizing the Pilgrimage in Pass Christian this year. It was a tremendous success under the direction of Mrs. Virgil Giani and Mrs. Perry Davis. Mrs. N. Lee Stanbro and Mrs. K. Zack Anthony were co-chairmen of an elegant tea, which was served in the Pass Christian Library.

There will be a meeting of Flower Show committee and board members on April 7 at the Pass Christian Yacht Club to formalize plans for the April 23 Flower Show to be staged at the Hancock Bank Civic Center in Pass Christian.

Coast Jazz Society

The Mississippi Coast Jazz Society's 'Second Liners' will host the annual 'April Showers' party at 7:30 p.m., Crystal Room of the Royal d'Iberville Hotel, Biloxi, Monday, April 27.

This party features the exhibition of the Second Liners' decorated umbrellas. The ladies will be competing for prizes for the best and fanciest umbrella. Accompanying all of the umbrella activity will be the popular Dixie-Land Jazz groups playing favorite jazz music for the dancing pleasure of everyone.

Guests are welcome at $3 each. Yearly memberships will also be available at the door, $15 joint memberships, adults only; $10 singles.

Medical Assistants

Coast Counties Medical Assistants will meet at Robby's Restaurant on Hwy. 49, Gulfport Thursday, April 16 at 6:30 p.m.

Eric Wyble, MD, a Gulfport physician who specializes in plastic and cosmetic surgery, will speak on surgeries of the breast. At the March 19 meeting, Ann M. Larkin, CMA-A, RMA was installed as chapter treasurer.

Members and interested persons are asked to call Carolyn Hardin at 863-7144 no later than April 13 for reservations and/or information.

Gulf Coast Newcomers Club

A style show, presented by B. J. Puzzles of Long Beach, will be the program for the Gulf Coast Newcomers' meeting April 14. Models will be members of the club.

The club will meet at the Best Western Beach View Inn at 11 a.m. with lunch following at noon.

Any woman who has moved to the Coast in the past three years is invited to join.

Call Nashie Ward at 868-2898 or Ive Chubb at 868-2444 for information.

Diamondhead PEO Chapter 9

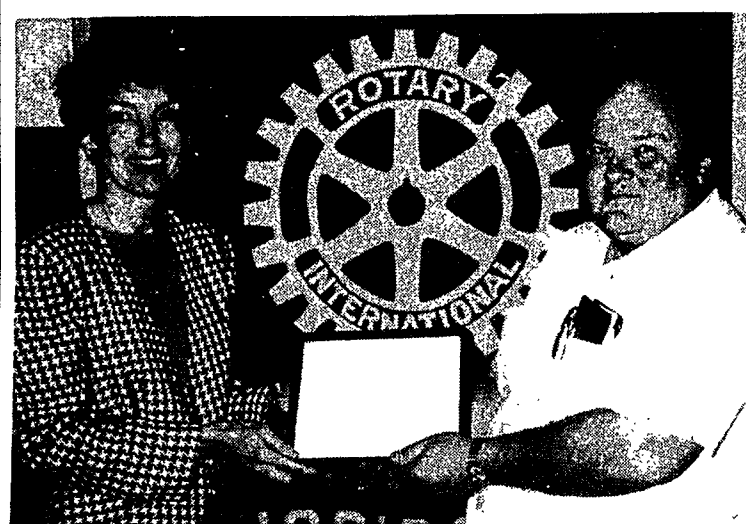

Members of Chapter Q, PEO of Diamondhead, will meet Tuesday, April 21 at the home of Carolyn Koerner.

Newly elected officers of Chapter Q include Betty Reddock, president; Carolyn Koerner, vice-president; Bertha Morris, recording secretary; Winnell Chancellor, corresponding secretary; Bette Smart, treasurer; Margaret Hill, chaplain; and Betty Pennington, guard.

Parents Without Partners Chapter 1120

Any single person is eligible to join Parents Without Partners, an organization of divorced, widowed, legally separated or never married parents. The group meets every Thursday, 7:30 p.m., at the Gaston Hewes Recreation Center, 17th Street, Gulfport (off Hwy. 49).

For more information, call 896-4852.

Teacher of the Month

Carrie Smith is handed a framed certificate by Waveland Alderman Bob Hubbard, honoring her as the Rotarian pick for Teacher of the Month. Smith has been a teacher with the Bay-Waveland School District for the past 18 years. She teaches 10th grade English, and accelerated 10th and 12th grade English.

Hancock Women's Club

Hancock Women's Club met at the Veterans of Foreign Wars building, Bay St. Louis April 9.

Newly installed president Lorraine Townsend noted the large number in attendance.

Hancock Medical Center Don Henderson was guest speaker. He mentioned a new doctor from Waveland may be joining the staff in the near future.

Plans were discussed for a yard sale to raise funds for various charities. It will be a the Townsend home on Pecan Park Drive Saturday, May 2 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Three trees were planted in conjunction with the San Diego Sonoptamist Club. Hancock Women's Club member Marie Braselman has a daughter, Ruth Fleur, who is a member of the San Diego organization. The dedication of the trees will be May 1 at the Hancock Walking Track.

Hancock Women's Club plants trees in memory of deceased members and their spouses.

Reflections

Others are thick and extremely devious, such as the mask of covert racism which frequently manages to hide itself from the very person who wears it.

Blustering, aggressive arrogance has its own phony masks which hide a strong insecurity. The anxieties and inferior feelings of the boisterous and imperious usually match the annoying force of their noxious ways.

One of the most impenetrable masks is that fashioned by those fearful of rejection. Through a deceptive combination of eye control, facial impassiveness and calculated demeanor, these timid souls mask their feelings of love and friendship.

Con artists wear the most deceptive masks of all, constantly honing their skills of gab, plastic smiles and mental gymnastics to be most effective in plying their trade. Their masks consistently fool people more than any others do.

Not one of these masks is good for us or for anyone else, even though we live under the illusion that they are sparing us some measure of pain. The sooner we drop them the better.

If we take the right lead and follow him who bore the pains of all our masks, we will have nothing to hide.

Mt. Zion schedules Easter week services

The Greater Mt. Zion AME Church, Pearllington, invites the public to their Passion week services Wednesday, April 15 through Friday, April 17 at 7 p.m. nightly.

Speakers include:

April 15: the Rev. Ruby Shoemaker, the Rev. Dwayne Alfred and the Rev. Artwise Clemons; April 16: the Rev. Bobby Dailley, and Holy Communion by the Rev. F. L. Fields;

April 17: the Rev. Frank Jones, the Rev. Norman Bickham and the Rev. Anthony Mills.

Special musical selections will be offered by Preacher Jenkins. The public is also invited to attend early Easter morning service at 6 a.m. Easter Sunday.

The Rev. Frederick L. Fields is pastor.

BIRTHS

RAINEE NICOLE DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Scott F. Davis of Bay St. Louis announce the birth of a daughter, Raine Nicole, January 27, 1992 at 11:38 a.m. at Slidell Memorial Hospital.

She weighed 10 pounds, 1 ounce.

Mrs. Davis is the former Linda Kay Pernicaro.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nuncy A. Pernicaro Sr. of Waveland.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Davis of Bay St. Louis.

Paternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Leola Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Lillian Davis of Baraboo, Wis.

Free home decorating seminar planned Tues.

Although few of us still do major spring cleaning like our mother and grandmothers did, a change of season usually gives us more enthusiasm for sprucing up our homes a bit.

To get you "jump-started," join us for a class on window treatment, furniture arrangements and selecting wall coverings and carpeting. The program will be Tuesday, April 14, 7 p.m. in the crew room, Coast Electric Power Association (across Main Street), Bay St. Louis.

Seating is limited; call 467-5456 to register.

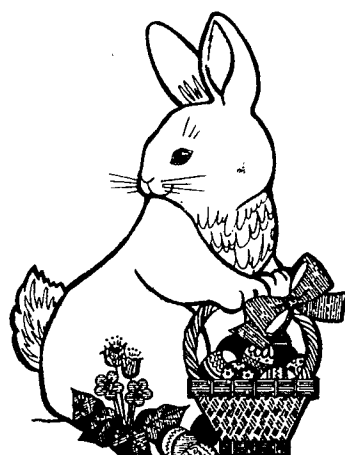

Aneta Scarborough, home furnishings specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, will be the instructor.

It's Easter Market time on Main Street

The Main Street Market will be in full swing Saturday, April 18 from 8 a.m. until all shoppers are finished. The market is located at 119 Main Street. Booth spaces are still available by calling 467-5687.

The market benefits the Main Street-Bay St. Louis project. Booth fees are designated for a landscaping plan for the downtown area.

"Sometimes we never know who will be a vendor in the market. Every market has a surprise array of goods," said Mike Cuevas, project manager.

Chapter I planning meeting set at Hancock

A public meeting for planning the Hancock County School Chapter I program for the 1992-93 school year will be in the Federal Programs office (Room C118) at Hancock High School Thursday, April 16 at 4 p.m.

Plans for the Chapter II program and other new and ongoing grants will begin in the same office at 3 p.m.

An overview and evaluation of the present projects, money available, guidelines, areas of concentration, and program effectiveness will be discussed.

Interested parties are invited to attend. Call Gaynell Robert, 467-2251 (ext. 540) for more information.

Seven honored at NASA

Seven residents of Hancock and West Harrison counties were recognized during NASA's annual Honor Awards Ceremony Friday at the John C. Stennis Space Center Visitors Center auditorium.

NASA's most prestigious honor awards were presented to a number of carefully selected individuals and groups of individuals, both government and non-government personnel, who distinguished themselves by making outstanding contributions to the NASA mission.

Brewster H. Shaw Jr. was guest speaker at the awards ceremony. Shaw is a veteran astronaut of three Space Shuttle missions and is currently serving as deputy director, Space Shuttle Operations, NASA Headquarters, stationed at Kennedy Space Center in Florida. Also assisting in the awards presentation was Stennis Space Center Acting Director Gerald Smith.

Cheryl Bennett, Ray Cuevas,

Belinda Gill, Clint Ladner, O. J. McArthur and Glenn Stockstill, all employees of Johnson Controls World Services, and private citizen William R. Matkin were all cited during the ceremony.

NASA's Public Service Group Achievement Award is an award given to a group of non-government employees in recognition of outstanding accomplishment which has contributed substantially to the NASA mission.

The Visitors Center Early Education Monday Team consisted of Cheryl Bennett of Pearlinton and Belinda Gill of Waveland, along with five other team members. They received the Public Service Group Achievement Award for the development and implementation of a program to enhance awareness of space science in children ages three through six.

The Shop Leaders' Task Team Vocational-Technical Program was another group honored with the NASA Public Service Group Achievement Award. Members of this team include Ray Cuevas and Clint Ladner, both of Necaise Crossing, O. J. McArthur of Bay St. Louis, and Glenn C. Stockstill of Kiln, all employees of Johnson Controls World Services. They were four of 10 team members honored for organizing and implementing the vocational-technical program between NASA and Pearl River Community College.

NASA's Certificate of Appreciation is awarded in recognition of outstanding accomplishment which has contributed substantially to the mission of NASA. Pass Christian resident William Matkin, a retired employee of the Department of the Army, Mobile District, Corps of Engineers, was recognized for his assistance and support to Stennis Space Center in the areas of real estate and management of the buffer zone.

ERA Bayshore named top agency

Members of ERA Bayshore Realty recently attended the ERA Southeast Brokers Council meeting held at Commander's Palace in New Orleans where ERA Bayshore Realty was designated top listing agency in the southeast region. The award was accepted by Herb Dubuison, president.

Patsy Dubuison was honored as the Top Listing agent in the southeast region, and Harry Frierson received second place in regional sales. Both Dubuison and Frierson were awarded multi-million dollar sales plaques.

Herb Dubuison was recently elected vice-president of the West Gulf Coast Association of Realtors. He and his wife, Patsy, founded ERA Bayshore Realty in 1983. He is also a certified residential appraiser.

Frierson was awarded the Ruby Award by the West Gulf Coast Association of Realtors. It is given to the agent with the most transactions in the year. This is the sixth consecutive year that an ERA Bayshore Realty agent has won either the Ruby or Diamond Award.

Frierson has been with ERA Bayshore for three years. He was graduated from the University of Mississippi with a degree in business administration and specializes in rural property.

Diamondhead resident earns Navy Achievement Medal

Lt. j.g. Michelle M. Graham of Diamondhead was awarded the Navy Achievement Medal at a special ceremony at Stennis Space Center.

Capt. Paul G. Gaffney II, Commanding Officer, Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C., presented the award to Graham on behalf of Rear Admiral D. E. Bottoroff, Naval Facilities Engineering Command.

Graham was cited for professional achievement in the superior performance of her duties while serving as assistant resident officer in charge of construction, Western Division, Naval Facilities Engineering Command Branch Office, Adak, Alaska from April 1990 to October 1991.

According to Bottoroff, Graham "distinguished herself by superbly managing the completion of a strategically critical and elaborately technical $17 million, 300 million barrel fuel tankage project despite complex modifications.

"Her thoroughness and expertise in analyzing proposed costs, developing sound strategies and tenaciously conducting negotiations results in greatly reduced modification costs and minimal delays in the construction schedule.

"Through her outstanding leadership in coordinating among designer, contractor and customer activities and her unequalled commitment to excellence, her many projects valued in excess of $20 million were successfully delivered to the Navy."

Graham earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Oregon State University and is a 1989 graduate of Officer Candidate School, Newport, R.I., and currently serves as the facilities engineer at the Naval Research Laboratory.

Moran certified

Hancock Medical Center Director of Radiology Jeanie Moran was awarded advanced certification by the American Registry of Radiological Technologists in mammography.

HMC's mammography department was accredited with the American College of Radiology in Jan. 1991.

Mammography technologists Sally Jaynes, Pat Schiro, Tara Guice and Moran recently completed a continuing education seminar on mammography image quality and advanced certification review sponsored GCSRT, with faculty by Eastman Kodak and the American Cancer Society.

Hancock Bank introduces 'Rate Riser' CD

Hancock Bank announced the introduction of a new "Rate Riser" Certificate of Deposit. Like other CDs, the "Rate Riser" assures the principal's safety and pays a high interest rate that is guaranteed. However, unlike other CDs, when interest rates rise, the rate on the "Rate Riser" can rise too.

Customers can invest $5,000 or more in one of Hancock Bank's "Rate Riser" Certificates of Deposit and be guaranteed of the following annual interest rates for the life of the CD: 5.15% for the three-year term; 5.55% for the four-year term; and 6.00% for the five-year term.

At any time during this three-year, four-year or five-year special CD term, customers have a one-time option to convert the rate to Hancock Bank's current CD rate. If interest rates go down, customers can keep the rate that they are already receiving. As usual, a substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawals.

LIVE THE LEGEND!

On December 7th, the Imperial Japanese Government bombs Pearl Harbor and the U.S. is drawn into the global inferno of World War II. The Manhattan Project, which will ultimately produce the atomic bomb, is begun and President Roosevelt signs the lend-lease act.

Meanwhile in Bay St. Louis...

Local Boy Reported Safe. Official Washington Report Confirms Joyous News--Family Rejoices.

Possibly the greatest happiness on Christmas Day, 1941, enjoyed in any home in Bay St. Louis was that of the Emile Perre family who are now in receipt of news from Washington confirming the safety of their son, Leon Louis Perre, who two weeks ago was reported missing after the Japanese raid on Pearl Harbor in which so many American soldiers and sailors were lost and injured.

The telegram two weeks ago reported that Leon (Toto) Perre, who was in active duty in the Hawaiian Islands was lost. It was sent from the Bureau of Navigation at Washington and received by his parents on Dec. 15.

The residents of Bay St., Louis joined the Perre family in the good news received about their son's safety.

FAITH SAYS OUR ONLY REAL WEALTH IS OUR LOVED ONES

It's a deadline each year that will always appear. For supporting the needs of our nation. That unmerciful day, we're required to pay: A procedure that's known as taxation. The more money we earn and the more we return. Make it seem like a terrible racket. For by working too hard we will then disregard Our attaining a loftier bracket: So it's foolish indeed to get more than we need. In our efforts at wealth without measure; Let's abandon our climb and begin to spend time With our loved ones, our only real treasure.

— Gloria Nowak

BSL Garden
of the Month

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Kemp, 123 Ballentine Street, was selected by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club as Bay St. Louis' Garden of the Month for April. The garden club's sign is located among a small island of flowers and greenery to the left of the driveway, while in front of the house is a row of beautiful pink roses. The photo at left shows one of the roses in front of the house. (Echo staff photos by Traci Bonney)
